LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

By the end of this lesson, students will be able to:

1. Define the terms sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression. [Knowledge]
2. Describe how each term is different from the others. [Knowledge]
3. Name at least two factual statements and two incorrect statements about sexual orientation and gender. [Knowledge]
4. List at least two respectful ways of communicating with or about LGBTQ individuals. [Knowledge]

A NOTE ABOUT LANGUAGE:

Language is really important and we've intentionally been very careful about our language throughout this curriculum. You may notice language throughout the curriculum that seems less familiar - using the pronoun "they" instead of "her" or "him", using gender neutral names in scenarios and role-plays and referring to "someone with a vulva" vs. a girl or woman. This is intended to make the curriculum inclusive of all genders and gender identities. You will need to determine for yourself how much and how often you can do this in your own school and classroom, and should make adjustments accordingly.

PROCEDURE:

STEP 1: Begin the class by explaining that you are going to be talking today about identity. Say, "Identity has to do with who we are. For example, one of my identities is... [choose an identity of yours that is unchangeable, i.e., race, ethnicity, ability. This identity should not be related to your sexual orientation or gender.]. Because we are talking about human sexuality, our class is going to be looking at parts of our sexual identity, including our sexual orientation and our gender identity."

(2 minutes)

STEP 2: Distribute a piece of paper and envelope to each student. Tell them that they are going to be asked to write down two things on their sheet of paper, without putting their name on it.

Ask them to write down what they've heard about what the term "sexual orientation" means. Tell them that if they haven't heard anything, they should just try to guess what it means.

Responsibility: A K-12 Curriculum*

After about 4 minutes, ask them to write down what they have heard about the term “gender identity.” Again, tell them that if they haven’t heard anything, they should just try to guess what it means.

Once they are done, ask them to fold their sheet of paper into thirds (you may need to model this for them), put it in their envelope and seal their envelope. Tell them not to open it until they’re asked to.

(8 minutes)

STEP 3: Go through the PowerPoint, “Understanding Gender Identity and Sexual Orientation.”

(12 minutes)

Note to the Teacher: This PowerPoint provides very basic information, so you may wish to allow additional time for questions. If these topics are newer or less familiar for you, you may wish to use your anonymous question box throughout class so you can look up any answers yo
